Discussion

Activity 1: Which tool is the best one to remember about your plans?

Discussion

➤ Activity 2: Watch the video and discuss the following questions:

1. Who is Brad? What and why has he just started to use?
2. Do you plan your life in detail, or do you prefer not making any plans? Why?
3. No matter how much you plan, things may go wrong. Have your plans ever gone wrong? What happened?
4. What do you use to help you plan? A smart phone application? Computer software? A pen and paper?
5. When you travel, do you plan where you will go, what you will see, and what you will eat?
6. Do you prefer buying products carefully or do you sometimes buy on impulse?
7. Did you have any plans when you were younger that you gave up on? Why?

Activity 3: Watch the video again and fill in the gaps. Then translate the words in bold.

This is Brad. Brad is sad. So Brad started making changes. Brad knew he knew he'd need some help. So he ... a few goals using Google Calendar. Goals like 'do yoga'. And calendar found the time. Look at Brad go! Of course goals don't ... easy. Sometimes your boss gets ... . Luckily calendar can move things around automatically. Other times, life gets in the way. But Calendar can help here too. Because helping you ... your goals is what this story is all about. You can even take a few minutes for those unexpected surprises. Calendar always has your covered. Now that Brad is meeting his goals, everything else seems to fall ... . Like the time he met the new sales rep, George. From Spain.

Discussion

Activity 4: Discuss the following questions. Put the words in bold into practice while answering.

1. What is the last goal you set yourself?
2. Is it always good to stick to the schedule when you travel?
3. When was the last time something came easy to you?
4. When was the last time somebody got in your way? Why?
